

SAFETY ORGANISATION

The primary objective of the safety organisation is to create an accident and injury free learning institution, and to familiarise the students with the importance and purpose of having a safety organisation on board ships.

The main objective is to:

- Implement rules and regulations on health and safety
- Establish procedures for health and safety
- Define a system on how to deal with and manage safety
- Address human behaviour and set a common safety culture

A safety organisation consists of a safety committee and safety groups.
